Connection sucks in games but for everything else works fine on my WiFi - [Solved]
2019/07/05

So, I got a new whole-home WiFi system yesterday. It got set up and it works fine, save for some teething problems. I conducted a speed test and I am getting around 11ms of ping, 60mbps down and 16mbps up. However, upon jumping onto some PUBG, I noticed the connection was appalling. Players were teleporting, along with my character too. I quit the game, knowing PUBG isn't the best game for their servers. So, I hopped onto CSGO and it was the same story. So the router works fine and I get good upload, download and ping outside of games. Any idea why the story is not the same in games?
