Wireless network router - [Solved]

2019/07/26

Hello all, my daughter lives next door to me like right out my back door, and she is over here about all day long helping me due to being very sick and different kinds of health problems. Well she has wifi through spectrum (time warner cable? at her place, but it dont pick up very good in my place and I really don't need wifi myself i hardly ever use it, but her brother in law give her another spectrum modem and router that they had purchased and dont need anymore. So her question is and she has been asking all over us there a way to splice that modem and router into hers to make the wifi strong over here at my place? She wouldnt worry too much about it but while shes here she likes to try to do her college classes online and with her helping me until my husband gets off of work then her having to be at work for second shift shes starting to fall behind, but she doesnt want to leave me by myself either due to falling a lot. Does anyone have any suggestions at all? Thank you so much in advance.
