Wireless Network Solutions - [Solved]

2019/08/01

Hello, I have just moved into my new apartment in the town where the college that I attend is located. I knew beforehand that my apartment wouldn't have any ethernet ports for me to use but I didn't really have much of a choice. The internet provider is called HotelWifi I believe. The ping isn't too bad in the apartment but the download speed is pretty slow and the NAT type is always STRICT. Is there any way to boost or increase my wireless signal in the apartment? I was looking into travel routers and I don't know how effective it would be. If it helps there is a place where you can connect a telephone line lol. Any help is greatly appreciated.
